Pandemonium reigned then among the followers of the Indians. Fully 200 students from the Carlisle School had accompanied the team to see the game, headed by a brass band of the school boys of seventy-five pieces. They made themselves heard in great shape, and were assisted by literal applause of the entire assemblage in appreciation of the beautiful play.

assemblage in appreciation of the beautiful play.

When Pennsylvania kicked off, Metozen returned the kick, and the ball again became Pennsylvania's in the centre of the field. Steady plays into the centre carried it fifteen yards forward and a quarterback kick gave it to the Indians. Hudson immediately returned the kick, and again Pennsylvania began her advances, slowly carrying the ball forward. Three times in the course of its journey to the goal line it was lost to the Indians for one or another cause. Each time the redskins failed to gain and punted.

Pennsylvania still continued the course.

Pennsylvania still continued the game and finally forced Minds over for a second touchdown, but again the goal was missed. Then ensued an exact repetition of the play succeeding Pennsylvania first touchdown. The Quakers carried the ball steadily back to midlield, a thirty-yard run by Outland playing an important part in the advance. Weeks fumbled in the centre of the ficial and the Indians gained the ball. This was their opportunity, and Metoxen again circled Folwell's end for a twenty-yard and vance, carrying the bill to the 35-yard line. Twice the Indians falled to gain; then Huuson dropped back for a goal. The play was difficult one from an angle of 30°, and the wind was blowing at a rate to make judgment in kicking particularly hard. Hadson received the ball and dropped it as quickly as before, and again, straight as an arrow, it liew between the posts, scoring the second goal from the field and putting the indians in the lead by a score of 10 to 8. The remaining time of the hilf quickly expired, and so the first engagement ended.

In the second half, with the wind in favor of Pennsylvania, there was a different story to tell. The gale had died down semewhat, but it was still sufficient to give to the Quakers a decided advantage. They returned the kick-off to midfield, and, after ineffectual attempts to gain. WILLIAMS, 6: AMHERST, 6. AMHERAT, Nov. 6.—The first game in the New England championship series was plyed on Pratt Field here to-day by Amherst and Williams and resulted in a draw. Amherat made a touchdown and goal, 6 points, in the first half by good playing, which included some effective mass plays. Whitney was the player who carried the hall over Williams's goal line and Griffin kicked it over the posts. The latter part of the second half was played in semi-darkness. Within five minutes of time being called Fifer of Williams secured the hall and, after a run of forty yards, made a touchdown, a goal to lowing. Amherat claimed that the umpire blew his whistle before the ball was put in play, because of allegel off-side play and, consequently. Fifer's run shouldn't count. The umpire stated that he did not know whether he blew his whistle or not, and referred the mitter to the referee, who decided that Fifer's touchdown and the goal resulting therefrom had been legally made. YALE, 16; CITICAGO A. C., 6.

New Haven, Nov. 6.—Vale's createst football victory of this season was over the crack Chicago Athletic Club eleven this afternoon. McBride, the sophomore, who was not reg rded for a moment as of 'varsity material last year, made all of Yale's touchdowns, every one being scored in the first half. It look seven minutes for Yale to score the first time. This touchdown was Yale's best exhibition of offensive football this year.

Cadwalador kit ked off, and Draper, sided by strong wind, returned from his 20-yard line.

Cadwaineer Ki ked off, and Draper, etclet by a strong wind, reterred from his 20-yard line, Yale began returning on short, at abbornly contested plunges, mostly almed at Shepard, who was unable to resist the attack. All the Yale sacks alternated in the assault, and Yale kept the ball continually till the leather stood on Chicago's 5-yard line. The entire Chicago line snrawled in front of McBride to trip him, but he dived into midar and the first tone. Ine sprawled in front of Melleide to trip him, but he dived into midair and the first touch down was Yale's.

Chicago quickly tied the score, Draper extching a punt and diving through the Yale line for thirty-ave yards. He was halted at Yale's 10-yard line, Hinckley and Pixley were battered back, but Draper got five yards more, and Wellington pounded his way through Marshall for his touchdown. back, but Draper got ave through Marshall Wellington pounded his way through Marshall for his touchdown.

Yale then began her former plunges through the Chicago tackles. A series of fumbling followed, and the ball atood at Chicago's 10-yard line, again Benjamin's 30-yard run being the prime fector in putting it there. McBride then took it over, and Cadwainder repeated his feat of kicking the goal.

It took Yale only three minutes to get her third and last touchdown, on the same tactics as before, McBride again posing as the "oid reliable" and crossing the line, but Cadwainder missed the goal, and the score stood Yale, 16; Chicago, 6.

Although ten more minutes play followed in the first half and the second half proved to be dierrely fought, neither side had strength left to run up a touchdown. The ball was not inside either of the contestants 20-yard line in the second half.

BROWN, 24; NEWTON A. A., 0.

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 6.—Brown defeated Newton A. A. here to-day, 24 to 0. All of the scoring was done in the second half. In the first half Newton put up a magnificent defensive game, and not only prevented Brown from scoring, but kept the ball in her territory most of the half. In the second half Brown braced up and played grand football. Her backs went through Newton's line for repeated gains, and Hopkins, Slocum, and Gammons divided up four touchdowns between them, from which Richardson kicked four goals. The line bucking of Hopkins, Richardson's punting, and Gammons's sensational sixty-yard run for a touchdown were the features for Brown. Nash and Richards did good work for Newton. The CORNELL, 45; PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE, 0, ITHACA, Nov. 6.—Cornell to-day defeated Pennsylvania State College at football by the score of 45 to 0, the visitors failing to endanger Cornell's goal line at any time with the exception of a blace kick for a goal from field from the 40-yard line, the ball going wide from the posts. The game played by Cornell was a surprise to every one. With three substitutes on the team it was thought the Pennsylvania team would make an exceedingly close game of it, but the large score of Cornell shows that the visitors were practically outclassed. Cornell's touchdowns were made princinally by the use of mass plays against Pennsylvania's tackles and guards, with a few trick plays, such as tackles and guards, with a few trick plays, such as tackles and guards, with a few trick plays, such as tackles and form in gains of from twenty to thirty yards. Pennsylvania played a hard, vicious game. Her principal offensive play was the "guards back," and it was practically useless, as the Cornel tackles and backs tore through and stopped the play with a loss. State College's gains outside of kicking would not exceed forly yards for the whole game, which will show what a superb defensive game Cornell played. Neither did Pennsylvania ever get the ball on downs. Wilson was the particular star of the game. Whiling slao played a fine game, making one run of ninety yards for a touchdown. WESLEYAN, 6; TRINITY, 4.

HARTFORD, Nov. 6.—Nearly 2,000 people witnessed he annual football struggle between trinity and Wesleyan this afternoon. The contest was unquestionably the finest that has been played between these colleges for a decade. The result was practically a victory for Trinity as the Middletown boys were outplayed from start to finish, although the final score was 6 to 4 in their favor. Ellis of Trinity failed to convert his own touchdown into a goal, owing to the misplacing of the ball, and through this piece of misfortune the Middletown men were able to claim a victory.

The outcome was a big surprise for the much vaunted giants of Middletown, and they left town deeply chagrined. To the conduct of Capt, Young is attributable in a large measure the poor work of Wesleyan. He lost his temper in the first half and slugged not only his opponents, but his own men. He was summarily ejected from the game, but persisted in interfering with the plays, necessitating the interference of the umpire a second time. Brown took his place.

With only a single policeman to handle a crowd of 2,000 spectators, the football players at the Prospect Park Parade Grounds were put to considerable inconvenience yesterday afternoon, and many good plays were spoiled through interference. The first field, roped off, was an exception, however, and on this the elevens of the Helmont A. C. of Brooklyn and the Hamilton Football Club of this city played a lively and interesting game. It ended rather unsatisfactiorily, as the Hamilton players, dissatisfied with a decision of the referce, left the field several minutes before the second half was completed. The Hamiltons failed to score a point, while the Helmonts scored 6 on Elwell's touchdown and kick of goal.

The game was played on the grounds of the Newark Field Club. In previous seasons the Newark boys had regularly defeated Pingry, and the latter went into the contest to-day with a determination to turn the score. They succeeded easily.

CARLISLE, Nov. 6.—The finest and most interesting football game of the season was played on the athletic grounds here this afternoon between Dickinson College of this city and St. Mary's College of Emilisburg, Md. The game was hotly contested from the start, neither side scoring.

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 6 .- The 'varsity eleven prac ticed signals early this afternoon, and then at-tended in a body the Harvard-Pennsylvania reshman game. The players are rapidly getting into fine condition, and as yet there is no evi dence of any staleness. Capt. Cabot's recent trouble with his knee will not incapacitate him for the Yale game. He has been taking a needed rest of late, and it is thought that he will go into the game in the very test physical condition. Sullivan has almost recovered from his bad ankle, and the coaches are doing their utmost to keep him all right for the Yale game Bouve is as solid as ever, and no anxiety is felt lest he will be unable to play. Dr. Brooks and Trainer Lathrop are keeping close watch of the physical condition of the players.

North Tonawanda, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Yale has turned again to the "Silent Captain" who guided her to victory in the palmy days of her great accomplishments. Frank A. Hinkey has been asked to go to the rescue of the New Haven aggregation. His brother Louis is doing his best to put life into the faltering sons of Old Ell, and through him has come an invitation to the famous excaptain to come to the rescue. The message is backed by the Yale Football authorities, but Napoleon Hinkey will refuse to go. He will talk but little of the matter, but it is understood that his refusal is based on the facts that he is now manager of the large Nico & Hinkey hardware establishment here, that he is a member of the Tonawanda Common Council, and that his large business interests will not permit him to accept Yale's offer. And there is still another reason why he will disregard the appeal from New Haven. Although he refuses to openly discuss Yale's eleven, his friends are certain he has little confidence in his Bouve is as solid as ever, and no anxiety is felt regard the appeal from New Haven. Although the refuses to openly discuss Yale's cleven, his friends are certain he has little confidence in this season's aggregation. NEW HAVEN, Nov. 6 .- The Chicago A. C.'s eleven is badly shaken up over the result of its game here to-day with Yale. The fracture of Centre Rush Paulman's left arm was reduced to-night and he will go home to Chicago at once. He says that the injury was received early in the game, but he played until the end early in the game, but he played until the end of the first half in intense pain. Besides him, Wellington, Hinckley, Baeder, and Draper were badly pounded.

The Chicago men will stay here until next Wednesday before going to New York to make plans for meeting Orange next Saturday. That will be the only game played by them on the present Eastern trip. More players have been telegraphed for and are expected in time for the Orange game.

of the National Track Association Not Unfriendly to the L. A. W.

A meeting of the officers and members of the National Cycle Track Association was held at the Everett House yesterday. There were present:

Boston; T. H. Ryan, New York; R. M. Rich, Bridge-port; L. H. Adams, Springfield; R. M. Blomac, New-ark; S. B. Weaver, Philadelphia; C. H. Johnson,

Representatives from the Asbury Park and Louisville tracks were absent. The object of the meeting was to formulate plans for a circuit of race meets for next season, to include eighteet dates. The association managers have arranged all the preliminary details for their meets by selecting their dates, and are prepared to in augurate an active racing year in '98.

Chairman Mott of the L. A. W. Racing Board was invited to attend the meeting to approve of the organization's plans and suggest any changes that the L. A. W. may feel called upon to make Business prevented his attendance, and in his absence the association officers declined to make public the details of their plans for next year. It is their intention to promote short and long distance amateur and professional events liberal purses, and promote intercity and paced match races. Last year their application for dates to the L. A. W. was not made until the dates to the L.A. W. was not made until the racing season was well under way, with the result that the League officers were compelled to refuse sanction for a number of the dates applied for.

The members of the association claim that next season their races will attract all the leading American and foreign riders, and will give to racing a big impetus in this country. They deny the rumors that have been circulated that they have planned to make an effort to take up the contrary, they state that it is their intention to work in harmony with the League. They propose to submit their racing plans to the L.A. W. officers at once.

Harvard Caremen on the Charles.

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 6 .- A race was held this afternoon on the Charles River basin between the Harvard four-oared craws. Four boats started and the course was one mile in length. No time was given out. Adams's boat was first, Goodrich's second, Perkins's third, and Higginson's fourth. The 2rst boat was about three-fourths of a length ahead and a distance of two lengths separated the three boats. A heavy wind was blowing and the sea was choppy. All the crews were obliged to dump the water out of the boats before returning. Coach Lehmann and Mr. Willis followed the crews in the John Harvard launch. The captains drew for position yesterlaunch. The captains drew for position yester-day.
